Farm Tools Takes Over Buffalo Firm

Merger Of Plants Revealed

N. Y. Factory To Be Abandoned

Merger of the Farm Tools, Inc., of Mansfield, an Indiana corporation, and the Heinz and Munschauer company of Buffalo, N. Y., into a single company as Farm Tools, Inc., was announced today. The new Farm Tools, Inc., will be an Ohio corporation.

The new $2,000,000 company, formed by two Cleveland brothers, Harold and Walter Schott, expects to produce more than $12,000,000 worth of farm implements and tools in Mansfield this year.

An agreement for the merger was filed with the Richland county recorder's office yesterday. The Buffalo firm was acquired by the Schott brothers five years ago. They purchased majority stock interest in the Mansfield firm last February.

The merger became effective June 28. The Indiana firm was made up of a merger 10 years ago of four other companies—the Vulcan Plow, Peoria Implement, Hays Implement and Roderick Lean Plow company.

The Buffalo firm has been making tractors. Company officials said the Buffalo plant would be abandoned.

STEP UP OPERATIONS

While officials at the Mansfield plant declined to comment on plans for the merged industrial firms, it is expected that production here will be stepped up considerably.

Farm Tools has another plant in Evansville, Ind. Its headquarters are in Mansfield. Walter E. Schott is chairman of the board of Farm Tools.

The Schott family also controls the Leader Tractor company. Schott said that "Leader tractor and Farm Tools sell their products to distributors and dealers and fit into the same pattern of distribution of consumers products that has been followed by all the other Schott companies, the U. S. Air Compressor company, Cleveland; the Stratbury Manufacturing company of Galion, the Cincinnati Time Recorder company of the J. A. Fay and Egan company, Auto Vehicle Parts company, and Greaves Machine Tool company, all of Cincinnati.

"It is our plan to expand the sales of our products and our desire to concentrate our management on consumer products," Walter E. Schott said. "Farm Tools and Leader Tractor will do approximately $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 worth of business annually."

Body Search Unsuccessful

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The "search for the body" continued today in a lakefront dump after the first eight hours of steam shovel detecting uncovered mostly empty beer bottles.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber had the unusual task of directing digging operations in quest of the body of a woman allegedly buried on the Lake Erie shore.

George Andrews, manacled 32-year-old Pennsylvania workhouse inmate, aided the conorer in the search for a corpse, which Andrews said he had concealed there in a scrapped automobile.

Andrews said he had quarreled with the woman, whom he knew only as "Lorna," and became "angry and choked her, but didn't mean to kill her." He added that he confessed because he "could not get a good night's sleep."

Bucyrus Girl Best In Nation

BUCYRUS—Juanita Joy Linn, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linn, won the American Homemaker degree today in a nation-wide contest at Kansas City, Mo.

The award is the highest offered by the Future Homemakers of America organization.

A former Ohio state president of the national homemakers organization, Miss Linn was accompanied to Kansas City by her mother, who is also active in the organization.

Bulletin

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower gave a "final and complete" refusal today to all efforts to draft him for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I would refuse to accept the nomination," Eisenhower said.

That was in a telegram to Senator Claude Pepper of Florida. Pepper said yesterday he would place the general's name in nomination at next week's party convention if someone didn't beat him to it.

Eisenhower called him off. Pepper released the general's telegram and said he would comply with "the greatest reluctance" with Eisenhower's request that his name not be offered to the convention.

Food Plane Crash Kills 3 Americans

Allies Continue Blockade Fight

BERLIN —(AP)— Three Americans were killed last night when a United States Air Force plane flying food to Soviet-blocked Berlin, crashed near Frankfurt. They were the first American lives lost in the allied lift to the isolated city.

Despite the accident and bad weather the western allies kept the momentum of the air ferrying service going today.

In London diplomatic officials said last night Britain, the United States and France had decided to delay publication of their notes demanding an end to the blockade for at least 24 hours while Russia thinks the matter over.

The plane which crashed was a two-engined C-47. The crash occurred in the Taunus mountains, 20 miles northwest of Frankfurt. The plane burned after plunging into the woods on a peak.

Three charred bodies were dug from the wreckage. The victims were two U.S. Air Force officers—the pilot and co-pilot—and a civilian passenger. Their names were withhfeld pending notification of relatives.

In Paris well-informed sources agreed with France-Soir's version of the French note—that France is willing to negotiate four-power differences in Berlin, but only on condition that Russia lift her blockade of the western sectors at once.

The Russian Air Force informed the British Royal Air Force today that Soviet pilots are engaged in "instrument flying practice" at Brandenburg in the British air corridor linking Berlin with the British zone, British officials said.

The British have instructed RAF pilots flying supplies into Berlin to avoid the area, they said.

The western-licensed newspapers summoned all Berliners—including those in the Soviet sector—to protest the "brutal Russian blockade" and "ally yourselves for Berlin's freedom."

Stop-Truman Drive Failing

PHILADELPHIA —(UP)— Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath said today the stop-Truman drive has been detoured if not stopped.

McGrath told a press conference he didn't know in just what direction the stop-Truman drive was detoured.

"But it is off of General Eisenhower and is on some side road," he added.

Woods Fights House Frauds

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Tighe E. Wood, national housing expediter, says the government is after contractors who defrauded former servicemen under the GI housing program.

"Congress has given us enough money to put a pretty big dent in complaints of priority violations by the end of the year," he said yesterday. "We are now hiring men to do the job.

"We expect to concentrate our efforts in those communities where we will strike the best paydirt. We believe that two or three good court cases in a community to recover excess charges will result in voluntary settlement of most other cases."

Ashland Jury Raps Gambling

Club Operator Freed on Bond

ASHLAND—Bartley Bowers, indicted on four gambling charges in Ashland county by the grand jury in a determined effort to crack down on alleged "big time" gambling here, today was at liberty under a $2,000 bond.

Bowers, operator of the Sky-Hi club on Wooster road, voluntarily gave himself up to police authorities late last night, explaining that he had been on a "fishing trip."

He was not at the club when Sheriff R. Myers visited there earlier in the day.

He will be arraigned at a preliminary hearing Wednesday at 9 a. m.

The club, housed in a barn on Route 250, opened as a restaurant a year ago. It attracted customers not only from Ashland county but from surrounding counties and also from the Cleveland area

Indictments against Bowers charge him with knowingly permitting the club building to be used for gambling on occasion; unlawfully exhibiting for gain gambling devices known as slot machines; exhibiting for gain dice and dice tables, and exhibiting for gain a roulette wheel.

Ex-Convict Shoots Four

Murders Victim As Wife Watches

CANTON —(AP)— A 33-year-old ex-convict was held for questioning here today following a wild shooting spree in which a captive motorist was killed and three persons were wounded.

Stark County Prosecutor D. Deane McLaughlin said John Burson, the former convict, would be charged with murder in the fatal shooting last night of Elsworth Ruch jr., 26, of Canton.

Burson's wife, Vera, 39, and Marion Hasley, 24, of nearby Genoa, were hospitalized here with bullet wounds as a result of the fracas. Another injured victim, Raymond McGinnis, 40, of Massillon, was reelased after emergency treatment for scalp lacerations.

Sheriff's Deputy Wilbur Ronk gave this version of the fracas:

Burson came to the Genoa home where his wife was working, grabbed a .22 caliber revolver, fired a shot which grazed his wife's head and then dragged her into the street, beating her with the gun.

Hasley, a neighbor, attempted to disarm Burson and was shot in the arms and legs. McGinnis was struck by the gun-wielding Burson in the street, and the latter then drove to Canton.

The ex-convict stopped Mr. and Mrs. Ruch in their auto at Canton, forced Ruch to drive at gunpoint and then shot the captive driver while Ruch's wife, Patricia, 19, watched from the rear seat. Burson then forced Mrs. Ruch to drive the auto south to Navarre, O.

Mrs. Ruch escaped from the automobile on Route 21 and screamed for help. Members of a Mennonite prayer meeting ran to a cornfield, where Burson had ditched the car, captured Burson and held him until deputies and state highway patrolmen arrested the former inmate of Mansfield reformatory.

Tax Payments Behind Schedule

Where's the tax money? Deputies in the county treasurer's office are wondering.

There's a real estate tax charge of $1,200,000 to be collected by July 20. But as of today only $404,928 has been collected, County Treasurer Charles C. Payne reported.

He said payments have picked up some, $14,245 having been collected yesterday. He again urged payments by mail.

BONUS CHECKS MAILED

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The state bonus commission said today 165,531 checks have been mailed to veterans since April 28

Flames Threaten Courthouse

Firemen Extinguish City's Highest Blaze

Mansfield firemen yesterday battled the highest fire in the city's history.

They extinguished a stubborn blaze in the Richland county courthouse dome and had to bring most of their equipment into service to do it.

The blaze started from sparks from a welder's torch which ignited birds' nests in the dome, firemen said. Timbers supporting the dome were charred, but county commissioners said damage was slight.

The county will replace the wooden framework with metal, starting the repair work immediately. The Sheriff's radio aerials are in the tower, but they were not damaged.

While hundreds of spectators gathered in Central park to watch the firemen climb to the top of the building, most workers in the courthouse went about their tasks as usual.

Firemen used their aerial ladder, which was put up to the roof of the courthouse.

Harold Snyder, courthouse janitor, said firemen expressed the opinion that had there been an opening in the top of the dome to fan the blaze, considerable damage might have resulted.

The fire broke out about 1:30 p. m. when the welders were repairing the base on which the statue of the "Lady of Justice" rests. Snyder said the base had corroded with the years.

The fire was the first to occur in the courthouse in the memory of the oldest employe there, Assignment Clerk Charles A. McKinley, who has been there 31 years.

Blast Called Out-City Job

Chief of Police Jesse J. Schwab expressed belief today that the dynamite used in the Monday bombing of the Crescent cafe was brought to Mansfield from out of town.

Admitting that tracing the source of the explosive was difficult, he said all Richland county dealers had b .n checked without result. By law, all persons who purchase dynamite must sign for it.

The chief said some information had been uncovered but its nature could not be divulged as yet. He indicated an absence of hot leads."

Meanwhile, the two firemen injured in the explosion, James Peck and Roy Reeder, remained in General hospital The two injured policemen, William D. Mitchell and Joseph P Butler, were released on Wednesday.

WAREHOUSE BURNS

CLEVELAND—(UP)—An early morning fire today destroyed a large warehouse of the U. S. Steel company, with damage estimated at $300,000.

Contest Open to All

'The Story' Wants Photos

A call went out today for pictures for "The Mansfield Story."

The Chamber of Commerce public relations committee, directing production of Louis Bromfield's "The Mansfield Story," invited all residents of Richland county to submit pictures for the unusual book.

It announced that cash prizes would be awarded for the pictures judged as best illustrating the theme of Bromfield's book—that Mansfield is the ideal type of American community, neither urban nor rural but a blend of both.

The contest carries out the committee's purpose of producing a book about Mansfield in which "everyone helps." Already hundreds of civic leaders have aided in the compilation of data for Bromfield's use.

Thirty pages of the book will be devoted to pictures. These pictures will be selected from those submitted in the contest, which will be open to amateur as well as professional photographers. To aid camera fans, the committee plans to prepare a list of suggested subjects.

Bromfield has completed his first draft of the text for "The Mansfield Story." It now is being revised with the view to making it ready for the printers when the photo contest is completed.

New War Rages In Palestine

Armies Locked In Conflict

CAIRO—(UP)—The Palestine war flared up anew today in outbursts of violent fighting all along the 200-mile broken battlefront when the United Nations truce expired.

The Arab and Jewish armies reported that they were locked in bitter struggles which boiled up on the battlefields extending all the way from the Haifa area in the north to the Gaza region in the south.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the U.N. mediator, flew on an urgent eleventh hour mission from Rhodes to Amman to confer with King Abdullah. But there was no sign that he had reversed his abandonment of hope that the fighting could be stopped.

King Abdullah was appointed commander in chief of all the Arab armies fighting in Palestine, and at once pooled the forces for an all-out offensive against the Jews, an Amman dispatch reported.

The 28-day truce negotiated by Bernadotte ran out at 1 a. m. (EST). The Arabs rejected urgent appeals by the mediator and the security council to prolong it, and the waiting armies went into action at the zero hour.

Tel Aviv dispatches said the first Jewish communique issued after the truce expired reported that Egyptian infantry supported by tanks launched attacks against the village of Julis, near Gaza. It said the attackers suffered heavy losses.

HIGHWAY UNDER FIRE

From the Amman headquarters of Abdullah, the Arab "strong man," came word that Iraqi troops supported by heavy artillery and howitzers brought Haifa-Tel Aviv communications under fire near Natanya, bidding to cut the vital highway along the coast.

Solidly entrenched cannon in the Natanya area laid down what was called one of the heaviest bombardments of the war to soften up the Jewish positions, Amman said.

Units of Arab legionnaires took over the leadership of Syrian and Lebanese forces to open a drive on Haifa from north, Arab military quarters reported.

Other units moved out of the Latrun hills west of Jerusalem to try to cut the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem highway, the lifeline for the Jewish defenders of the modern city of Jerusalem.

2nd Murder Confessed

WASHINGTON —(UP)—Police announced today that a 31-year-old janitor has confessed the rape-slaying two weeks ago of Carol Bardwell, 11, in a thickly-wooded Washington park.

He was identified as Eugene H. James. He already has confessed the murder of 11-year old Marsha Brill in Baltimore last Tuesday.

Announcement of the new confession was made by Robert Barrett, Washington police superintendent, and Capt. Mark Raspberry, head of the U. S. park police

Details of the two crimes were strikingly similar. In each case, the young girl victim was bicycle-riding in a wooded area In each case she was brutually slashed.

Protest Made By Chinese

PEIPING—(INS)—Fifteen thousand Chinese university students, shouting anti-American and other slogans, marched through Peiping's streets today in a giant demonstration of protest against martial law.

Challenging an official ban on public gatherings, the youths and girls paraded in closed ranks to present a petition to Gen. Li Tsung-Jen, China's vice president.

The petition demanded the lifting of martial law, the release of all students arrested in the past few days and payment of compensation for the fatal shooting and wounding of students in a Peiping riot last Monday.

Mayor Stabs Rat Control

A technical adviser to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service today quoted Mayor Roy W. Vaughn of Mansfield as calling rat control a "crackpot idea."

In a letter to the editor of the News-Journal, Jesse D. Straitiff of Akron, who was the official federal observer at Ashland's housecleaning day last week, wrote:

"Will you please send me copies of your issues of Thursday, July 1, and Friday, July 2, 1948?

"I am especially interested in your editorial of Friday, July 2, 'Ashland's House Cleaning Day,' because I made every effort to promote a similar movement in Mansfield at the same time the Ashland project was started.

"Your health department was ready and willing to cooperate in the program but when I talked to your mayor he not only refused to allow any cooperation but discourteously referred to the rat control as a crack-pot idea.

"Your newspaper is to be complimented on your news coverage and editorial comment as such is indeed for the public good."

The city and county health departments have been working for at least four years to organize a rat control program in the city-county area.

Both Dr. W. B. Wild and Dr. Fred O. Tonney attempted to get the project in motion while they were health directors, but their efforts were stymied by lack of funds.

500 Return To Plant

Striking Humphryes Workers Back on Job

Production was resumed at 6 a. m. today at the Humphryes Manufacturing company as some 500 employes, who staged a one-day walkout yesterday, returned to their jobs.

Union and company officials were scheduled to meet at 2 p. m. today at the plant to negotiate for a new contract. The old contract expired June 24.

Arthur Wernick, business agent for the union, Local 758, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, CIO, said today the strike was called because of a stalemate in contract negotiations The decision to return to work was reached at a union meeting at UE hall yesterday at 9:30 a. m

M. A Downs, plant superintendent of the Humphryes firm, said yesterday the company had offered wage increases of 10½ cents per hour and certain vacation benefits. The union did not reveal terms of its contract request.

Downs said production was resumed at the plant this morning.

Driver's Nose Cut as Auto Turns Over

James Stair, 22, Averill avenue, escaped with cuts on his nose late yesterday in a spectacular traffic accident at Springmill and McPherson streets

Police said Stair's car rolled over twice after it figured in a collision with one driven by Melvin Byrd, 1341½ Willow street The accident occurred about 5 p m.

Police said both drivers contended they had the green light at the intersection. Stair's car was badly damaged.

Byrd was driving west on Springmill street and Stair was headed south on McPherson street, the police report showed.

Pay Boost Granted 3 Unions

Area Wages Up $719,280

The Mansfield area, recently enriched an estimated $719,280 by an increase in wages for 2,200 railroad workers, learned today that it also will have to pay part of the bill.

The Interstate Commerce commission in Washington authorized an average increase of 17 per cent in passenger fares for all railroads north of the Ohio river and east of Chicago. The increase is to become effective on five days notice by the carriers.

The ICC announcement came on the heels of an agreement settling a year-long wage dispute that nearly caused a nationwide tie-up of railroads last May.

Under the wage agreement, members of three unions—the Locomotive Engineers, the Locomotive Fireman, and Enginemen and Switchmen—will receive a pay increase of 15½ cents an hour, retroactive to Nov. 1.

SAME AS REFUSED

That wage increase is the same sum for which those unions refused to settle last fall. Only government intervention prevented a strike of members of the three unions in May. At that time, it was estimated that 2,200 railroad employes in Mansfield, Crestline, Galion, Willard and Bucyrus would have been idled by a walkout.

Those 2,200 workers had received a 15½-cent an hour wage increase by an agreement reached earlier between the railroads and 18 non-operating unions.

The three operating unions affected by the latest agreement obtained 16 changes in operating rules in addition to the pay hike. The settlement was proposed by John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman, and accepted both by the union and the carriers last night in a conference at the White House in Washington.

The railroads also agreed to speed up handling of future wage dispute. Such a dispute is likely to arise in September when the 18 non-operating unions will present new wage requests on behalf of 1,250,000 railroad workers.

RAIL PLEA UPHELD

In granting the passenger fare increase, the ICC sustained the railroad's request for an advance of 20 per cent in basic passenger coach fares and 14.3 per cent in basic fares in sleeping and parlor cars.

The increases are in addition to the general 10 per cent hike in passenger fares granted by the compission throughout the country last year.

As a result of today's action, The basic one-way passenger coach fare will rise from 2.5 to 3 cents a mile and the basic sleeping and parlor car rate will go up from 3.5 to 4 cents a mile The order provides for proportionate increases in round trip fares.

The railroads estimated that on the basis of operations so far this year, the increases would yield about $61,000,000 annually. They told the ICC that this not only would more than make up for the $50,000,000 decline in revenues resulting from a drop in traffic volume.

Lewis Faces Court Action

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Government labor experts predicted today John L. Lewis will call off the "captive" coal mine strike, if so ordered, rather than risk another fine for contempt of court.

The mine chieftain will appear before Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough next Wednesday to show cause why 40,000 of his miners should not be ordered back to work in steel company pits.

Lewis is expected to challenge the constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley law's union shop restrictions—the nub of the dispute. But if Judge Goldsborough rules against him, government sources said, Lewis probably will give in.

Indians Welcome Another Set of Cousins

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

CLEVELAND wound up with five players on the 1948 American league all-star team. . . . Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon are sure starters in the infield while Ken Keltner has been named as a sub for George Kell of the Tigers. . . . Bob Lemon and Bob Feller are on the pitching staff. . . . Jim Hegan, the Indians' fine mechanical backstop, was fifth among the catchers; Dale Mitchell and Larry Doby were fifth among the left and center fielders and Eddie Robinson placed third in the first base poll. . . . And, of course, Leo Durocher would have to add a zany note to the proceedings. . . . The fans picked Andy Pafko of the Cubs to start at third base so Lippy adds three more third sackers—Frank Gustine, Pirates; Bob Elliott, Braves, and Sid Gordon, Giants.

SATCHEL PAIGE, the new-old Indian pitcher, faced Feller's all-stars in an exhibition game last year and won, 8 to 0. . . . He struck out 16. . . . In 1934, he bested Dizzy Dean, 1 to 0, in 13 innings. . . . That was the season Satch pitched for Bismarck, a team which won 104 of 105. . . . Paige says he guessed he started every game and one month opened 29 contests. . . . With the Kansas City Monarchs in 1946, he allowed only two runs in 93 innings and once had a string of 64 consecutive scoreless innings.

Tribe Takes Finale From Sox, 14 to 1

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Cleveland Indians' "first cousins," the Chicago White Sox, left town last night, but another group of relatives in the persons of the St. Louis Browns arrived for the opener of a three-game series tonight.

The Tribesmen are hoping the Brownies will be as well-behaved as the White Sox were. The sweep of the two-game series with the Chicagoans enabled the Indians to boost their league lead from a slim 10 percentage points to a full game over the Philadelphia Athletics.

BASE HIT SPREE

The Redskins scattered base hits all over the stadium in the series finale with the Sox yesterday, clouting two home runs, six doubles and seven singles for a 14 to 1 frolic and the club's season high for run production in a single game.

Al Gettel, a former Indian, was slugged for 11 runs and 12 hits before Manager Ted Lyons mercifully removed him in the seventh.

Cleveland tallied five in the first inning, two in the third, six in the seventh and one in the eighth.

Dale Mitchell, Hank Edwards and Joe Gordon got three hits apiece. Mitchell had two doubles and a single, while Edwards and Gordon each had a double and two singles.

Ken Keltner got only one hit, but it was a big one—his 20th home run of the season into the lower left field seats. Catcher Jim Hegan drove in five runs with a double with the bases loaded and a round tripper with one aboard in the third. It was his fifth of the season.

GETS 7TH WIN

Gene Bearden gave the Sox eight hits in notching his seventh triumph against three losses.

Bob Lemon, who may be the starting hurler for the American leaguers in the all-star game next Tuesday, will seek his 13th victory of the year in the opener against the Browns tonight. Fred Sanford, who has a 6-8 record, will oppose him.

Manager Lou Boudreau said today that Larry Doby will be installed as the Tribe's regular center fielder when his sprained ankle has healed completely The fleet Negro will not be ready for full-time duty before the Indians embark upon the third tour of the East next week.

NEW INDIAN—Leroy (Satchel) Paige, Negro hurler signed by the Cleveland Indians, grips a baseball while he discusses his new role with Tribe President Bill Veeck, in Cleveland. A tall, slim righthander, Paige has been with the Kansas City Monarchs for about six years. Minor Loops Aid Olympics

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Minor league baseball fans will be asked Sunday to make up a $90,000 deficit in U. S. Olympic team funds.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (the minors), suggested yesterday that Sunday be designated "Olympic Day" at every minor league game and the fans "be given an opportunity to make voluntary contributions to the Olympic fund."

Trautman said he took the action after learning that the United States Olympic committee might be forced to leave at least 70 qualifiers at home because of lack of money.

Madison Township Baseball Outfit Whips Bellville

Dick Poth went on a strike-out rampage last night at Bellville as the Madison township junior baseball team defeated Bellville, 17 to 4.

Poth whiffed 19 batsmen, allowed six hits and walked only three. The Madison lads were really in a hitting mood as they banged two Bellville pitchers for 17 safeties. Jim Brightbill had three singles, Ed Thomas clouted a double and triple and Poth laid in a single and double.

The Madison team will practice tomorrow at 3 p. m. on the Blue Goose diamond.

Hallabrin's Homer Wins For Komito's

John Hallabrin's terrific home run blast in the seventh inning with two on base enabled Komito's Clothes to keep in record unblemished last night at the Gorman-Rupp field.

In winning its fourth straight Independent league contest, Komito's nipped Penn Auto-Sporting Goods, 4 to 3. Kenny Windsor, Komito's pitcher, allowed only three hits while his mates got five off Denny Berry.

Penn Auto picked up a pair of runs in the first frame and the Clothes team got one in its half. Then neither team threatened until Penn increased its lead in the seventh to 3 to 1.

Hits by Windsor and Bob Boyd in the seventh set the stage for Hallabrin's long blow.

Locke Choice In Golf Open

COLUMBUS—(AP)—South African champion Bobby Locke goes after his second straight $10,000 Columbus open golf title today, with 83 other professionals and 18 amateurs attempting to foil him in the 72-hole event.

Locke won last year's race at Columbus Country club with 274, but the boys say the South African's game isn't suited exactly to the public layout where the current contest is slated.

Should Locke be shunted aside in his quest of the $2,000 first prize, favorites to take the laurels include such luminaries as Skip Alexander, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Dick Metz, Ed Furgol, Chick Harbert or Lloyd Mangrum.

Reds' Ewell Blackwell Returns to Mound Form

Lanky Ace Blanks Cubs With 7 Hits

By JACK HAND, AP Sports Writer

Ewell Blackwell's return to his 1947 form is the worst news National league hitters have heard since opening day.

The lean Cincinnati ace showed his old time zip yesterday in striking out 13 Chicago swingers while blanking the Cubs with seven hits, 4-0. It was his first complete game since the openr.

If Blacky means business, there must be some hasty revision of plans by other National league managers. A steady Blackwell, throwing freely with that deceptive sidearm motion, figures to be an important factor in the pennant race.

The Reds, four games under 500, hardly rate as flag contenders at this time. But their "nuisance value" to the rest of the clubs will be enhanced by the return of a solid Blackwell.

STANKY INJURED

Eddie Stanky, the National league's all-star second baseman, was injured in Brooklyn while his Braves were snapping the Dodgers' six-game win string, 7-4 Stanky suffered a sprained ankle in a collision with Third Baseman Bruce Edwards who got off lightly with a spiked right shin Boston's peppery infielder, a key man in the league-leaders' double play combination, may be out of the lineup for some time. He may miss the all-star game at St. Louis Tuesday.

Pittsburgh kept pace with the Braves, remaining 2½ games back in second place, by dumping St Louis 6-4. The Pirates scored five runs in the first inning after two were out, routing Gerry Staley who was making his first start of the season.

Injuries also hit the American league where Pitcher Early Wynn of Washington and Third Baseman George Kell of Detroit, an all-star team regular, were sidelined by sprained ankles.

Wynn was forced to retire in the second inning of a night game at Boston when Birdie Tebbets lashed a single off his right ankle. He was able to return to Washington with his teammates where X-rays were to be taken.

The Red Sox nicked Wynn for two runs before he left and added another pair off Forrest Thompson for a 4-1 edge behind Lefty Mel Parnell.

KELL RETIRES

Kell's injury, described as "not serious," forced him to retire from Detroit's game with St Louis in the eighth inning. The Tigers were well on their way to a 12-2 romp at that time.

Cleveland opened up a full game on Philadelphia by slugging the hapless Chicago White Sox, 14-1, while New York took a fall out of the Athletics, 6-5.

Tommy Henrich's grand slam homer helped the Yanks end a four-game losing streak by beating the A's. The four-run clout tied the score at 5-5 in the seventh and New York took the nod in the eighth

Casting Contest Scheduled Today

The casting contest planned for 6:30 p. m. today at the lake in Liberty park will be the first of a series of city-wide tournaments according to plans of the Mansfield casting club. Today's meet will be open to the public.

Five target rings have been placed in the lake by the club and will be left there permanently for practice of anyone wanting to use them.

Church Loop Softballers Score Total of 96 Runs

Church league softball teams really had on their hitting clothes last night as five contests produced 96 runs.

St. Luke's was the villain of the piece with a 22-to-7 victory over United Brethren as five players got three hits apiece. Then First Methodist rattled 24 hits to defeat First Presbyterian, 17 to 4. R Burkhart, Methodist catcher, had "5 for 5."

Possibly the best game of the league play saw First Lutheran hand Four Square Gospel its second straight defeat, 6 to 2. Applaman had a shutout until the final inning.

The other two games were each decided by one run as B'nai B'rith won over St. Paul's, 9 to 8, and First Congregational deteated St. Matthew's, 11 to 10.

Gorman-Rupp Battles Tiffin Team Tonight

Mansfield Gorman-Rupp may have a little more trouble than past records indicate with the Tiffin Routh Packers at 8 30 p. m. here tonight in a North Central Ohio Inter-City league game.

Tiffin has failed to win a league contest thus far, but only last week won its first game, trimming Auburndale Merchants of Toledo, 4-0. Harold "Smokey" Keller, who will pitch tonight, allowed the Toledo team one hit

Keller is a seasoned pitcher, having many no-hit games to his credit He has worked in the state tournament several times

The rest of the team is composed of speedy, teenage youngsters who are just getting accustomed to Class A softball. Catcher Shorty Eidt is 21, the only other player over 19

Manager Nick Weber of Gorman-Rupp will likely call on Stretch Regula to do the pitching chores for tonight's game. "Stretch" was beaten, 6-2, in his last start Monday at Ashland.

Harrison Dillard Draws Toughest Heat In Hurdles

EVANSTON, Ill.—(AP)—Harrison Dillard, the Olympic timber topping favorite from Baldwin Wallace, will face Clyde Scott, the NCAA champion from Arkansas, in the preliminaries of the 110 meter high hurdles at the U. S Olympic track and field tryouts.

This was established by the luck of the draw today when Dillard, Scott and Craig Dixon of UCLA were assigned to the same heat in the high hurdles preliminaries, leaving Bill Porter of Northwestern as the top prospect in the over six-man semi-final.

The final Olympic tryouts are scheduled to get under way at 6 p m. at Northwestern university's Dyche stadium and will continue through tomorrow afternoon

Fifteen men already have nailed down positions on the squad departing July 14 for London, where they will compete in the decathlon, marathon 10 000 meter run and 10,000 and 50 000 meter walks

Now, with the list of available athletes trimmed to less than 200 by eliminations in the NCAA and AAU championships, 53 additional places remain to be filled for the 17 other individual events and two relays

Sharon to Decide Fate of One-Room Schools Tuesday

Special Vote On Tax Issue To Be Held

State Aid Available

SHELBY—The fate of Sharon's two one-room school houses will be decided Tuesday.

On that day, voters here will go to the polls to decide, by special election, whether or not the two township schools will be maintained.

Sharon has the alternative of sending township pupils to the Shelby city school.

The vote, based on the question of passing a proposed 4-mill tax levy, covers two years of school operation. If the levy passes, the one-room schools will be maintained.

If it loses, the schools will be closed and the Shelby board of education will accept the district into the Shelby city school district. Sharon will accept the same school tax rate assessed in the rest of the Shelby district, that includes Jackson township and part of Plymouth township.

OWE $4,987.46

Should the levy carry, the Sharon district will be able to pay off the $4,987.46 debt owned the Shelby board of education for tuition. It will continue to maintain two schools for pupils of the lower six grades. Pupils of the upper six grades will attend the Shelby school.

Sharon township's two one-room schools both are within a few miles of the Shelby corporation line. The 32-pupil Norton school is on State Routes 39 and 96, near the new Shelby Sky Haven airport. The 34-pupil Gamble school is south of Shelby.

Both schools have modern equipment and playgrounds. Last year 65 pupils of the upper six grades attended the Shelby school.

SHELBY TAX RATE $14.30

If the voters approve the 4-mill levy, the township will have a school tax levy of $9.80 on each $1,000 of real estate valuation. If the levy is defeated, it would pay the Shelby rate of $14.30 a thousand.

The financial difficulties of the township schools developed because of provisions of the school foundation law which prevented the district from receiving state aid while the school levy remained below the state requirement.

However, when the tax rate was increased the first of the year to 5.8 mills, the board unknowingly entitled itself to state aid and about six weeks ago Supt. Byron H Carmean of the Shelby schools expressed surprise at receiving a check for $495 from the state.

Investigation revealed that the district is now entitled to "no additional state aid." This has scaled down the Sharon debt and reduced the amount needed in the levy.

'Y' Boys Stage Treasure Hunt

Richard Bly and Joseph Watkins, members of the YMCA Century Cycle club, led the race in the YMCA - sponsored treasure hunt in the area Thursday and emerged victorious over a group of approximately 18 members.

The group started out on a 20-mile round trip from the YMCA early yesterday with treasure hunt clues and hints placed in various spots through South, Middle and North Lake parks.

The boys were rewarded with candy bars for their efforts while the two winners congratulated each other on finding the "Y" Century Cycle club jersey which served as the "Treasure" in the hunt.

Shut-Down To Continue

Galion Plants Idle As Repairs Are Made

GALION — Galion's idle industrial plants can't re-open until Wednesday and possibly later, it was learned today.

John F. Powers, Galion service-safety director, announced that the city "will not be able to operate the main number one boiler at the Municipal Light and Power company until Wednesday."

He indicated that it may be even later in the week before repairs to the boiler are completed and it is put back into normal operation.

Larger industries in the city agreed to cooperate with city authorities by shutting down plants for an extra-long Fourth of July holiday for employes.

The North Electric Manufacturing company, however was not affected by the shutdown. It operates its own power plant.

The major plants shutdown are the Central Ohio Steel Products company, Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing company, Perfection Steel Body company and the Hercules Steel corporation.

Hot Weather Due to Return

Mansfielders can expect a return of the hot and sticky weather for the week end.

The weatherman said a warm, humid wave is headed this way and the mercury will take a spurt to between 85 and 90 degrees today with 90-degree readings prevailing over the state Saturday.

Possible thundershowers offered the only relief in sight.

Today's noon temperature was in the low 80's with a promise of going still higher by late afternoon.

The weather bureau's five-day outlook follows:

Temperatures will average two to four degrees above normal during the period. Cooler Monday and Tuesday; warmer Wednesday. Warmer, with showers Sunday, but showers beginning in the southern portion Saturday. Showers likely again about Wednesday. Total precipitation about one-half inch.

Files Damage Action For $580

A suit for $580 was filed yesterday afternoon in common pleas court by Rubert Hill, 15 East First street, as a result of an automobile accident on State Route 39, in Lucas.

Hill asks the sum for damages to his car, from Donald Dean Walkerow of Nashville, O. Attorney Fred H. Rader represents Hill.

GRASS FIRE BURNS

Firemen from Central station were called at 12:55 p. m. today to extinguish a grass fire at 315 Bartley avenue.

Higher County Pay Scale Lures Another City Worker

Mrs. Carolyn Cox Colby, police clerk-stenographer, has resigned her position, effective July 26 to take a post in the county auditor's office.

"The low wages paid by the city influenced my decision to resign," Mrs. Colby said, "but the main reason is that council wouldn't appropriate money for another clerk-stenographer. The work is too much for one person to carry."

Originally there were two police clerk-stenographers. Several months ago Miss Garnet Karl resigned and went to work at the county engineer's office.

Instead of hiring another girl, council created the position of policewoman and the civil service commission conducted an examination for the post. The policewoman was supposedly going to help with police clerical work along with her other duties.

Only one person applied for the post, and she turned it down after being accepted because her wages were not the same as the policemen's. The discrepancy arose from the fact that women employes are given a $12.50 a month bonus and men $25.

Mrs. Colby has worked for the police department since November, 1942. She left the department for two years in 1944 to serve in the WAVES.

Get Report On Convention

Approximately 80 members of the Mansfield Kiwanis club received a report from their delegate on the recent national Kiwanis convention in Los Angeles at a noon luncheon meeting Thursday in the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Arch Sullivan, Kiwanis club delegate to the convention, described the convention activity and told the Mansfield members of their responsibilities.

"The theme of the national convention concerned citizenship, responsibility and the price of freedom," Sullivan said. "and convention speakers stressed the importance of meeting attendance and club interest."

A. G. Earnshaw, Kiwanis club president, presided and Scott Coffin served as program chairman at the meeting.

2 Mansfield Men Injured

GALION—Four men were injured, one hospitalized, in an automobile collision on Route 545, south of Galion, Thursday afternoon which resulted in the arrest and fine of one of the drivers.

Clair Howard of Elyria, general superintendent of the Collier Construction company, is in Galion City hospital receiving treatment for fractured ribs and skin abrations. Police reported Howard was a passenger of a car driven by Paul Mako of Maple Heights, vice president of the firm. When it was in collision with one driven by Wilford Neff of Mansfield. Mako was not injured.

Neff later appeared before Justice of the Peace Richard Riblet in Galion on a charge of not heeding a stop sign. The charge was brought by the state highway patrol.

Neff was bruised but Ordil Davis, also of Mansfield, an occupant of Neff's car, was injured. The men were treated at City hospital.

Infant Gets Finger Back

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — One-year-old Sherry Lynn Plumb waved her hands cheerily to show all of her 10 tiny fingers are just as good as new.

That was today, some 96 hours after she had severed her right middle finger reaching for a cold cream jar at home.

Queen of Angels hospital surgeons, who declined use of their names, sewed the finger together, administered penicillin and put her whole hand in crushed ice. The ice therapy was continued for two days. When surgeons undressed the finger it was returning to normal

Trade Vacations For Patrol Car

SEYMOUR, Ind. — (AP) — Seymour policemen would rather have a new patrol car than vacations.

The city of 9,000 did not have enough money for a new car. It did have money appropriated to hire substitute policemen during vacations. The cops did a little figuring, weighed the situation and made their choice. They'll stay on the job this summer and get a new patrol car.

Moth eggs can hatch anywhere from four to 10 days in summer, three to four weeks in cold weather.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Will's Hospitality Isn't "Cracked"!

Ever since January, Will Dudley planned to give his living room that "new look"—planned to carefully refinish the woodwork and replaster the walls.

Every time Will got out the putty to start filling in the cracks, a neighbor stopped by to pass the time of day—and first thing you knew, there was a group of us helping Will do the job up right. After Will called a halt to the evening's work, we'd sit around the fire enjoying a friendly argument and a sparkling glass of mellow beer.

So Will's living room doesn't look like it did a year ago—but it's by far the most "livable" living room I know: A place you can always drop in for good talk, good beer, and a warm welcome.

From where I sit, so long as Will puts that atmosphere of hospitality and good fellowship ahead of everything else, we'll all be happy to help Will change the looks of his living room any time he wants.

Boy Admits 'Cycle Theft

Younger Companion Released By Police

A 19-year-old Pleasant avenue youth, who confessed to police he stole a motorcycle from a West Fourth street home, was held in city jail today after being apprehended at 2 a. m. yesterday in a West Fifth street garage.

Police said Donald Means, 120 Pleasant avenue, and a 15-year-old West Fifth street boy, were found in the garage by police investigating a report by Mrs. S. O. Riggleman, 188 North Benton street.

Mrs. Ruggleman, whose husband rents the garage, said she believed two men were attempting to break in the garage.

Taken into custody, Means told officers he had taken a 1941 motorcycle from 110 West Fourth street earlier in the evening and had picked up the boy and taken a ride. He said failure of the headlights prompted him to take the 'cycle to the garage at the rear of 295 West Fifth street where he intended to charge the battery.

Don Remy, owner of the 'cycle, told officers he would file charges against Means. The 15-year-old boy, whom police said seemed innocent of the robbery, was released to his mother.

Ohio Smokers Busy In June

COLUMBUS —(AP)—Three and one-third million more packs of cigarets were smoked in June by Ohioans than in any previous single month, the state excise tax section reported today.

The June cigaret taxes for Ohio amounted to a record high of $1,604,370. The previous high mark was July 1947, when the cigaret tax produced $1,543,736.

W. D. Failey, supervisor of the state excise tax section, said July revenue is expected to surpass the June record, as July and August are the months during which most cigarets are smoked.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE SIX — MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 9, 1948

Of course there are many ways to gamble—including buying a cantaloupe this early in the season.

One observer suggests that the dollar should be equipped with skid chains, to keep it from getting out of hand at every turn.

Creditable Conduct Complimented

MANSFIELD'S long-time freedom from any show of violence in connection with labor disputes—even during the progress of occasional strikes, was brought to public notice yesterday by Theodore Lutz, prosecuting attorney, when he said: "Hoodlum action and racketeering by labor organizations are unknown in Mansfield and Richland county."

This was said in discussion of rumors associated with the bomb explosion in the rear of a South Park street cafe last Monday morning, all angles of which are being subjected to close scrutiny.

Some other industrial cities have not been so fortunate as Mansfield in avoiding displays of violence—even bloodshed—in connection with disturbed labor conditions, and it reflects credit on this city's union members and their leaders that obedience to law, rather than resort to force, has been a consistent policy of labor groups in this community.

'Open House' Marks Bank Anniversary

THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY—either of an institution, a marriage, or an individual—is always regarded as an occasion worthy of observance, so it is the Richland Trust Company that is now being given special recognition because of completion of its first half century of service as a banking institution in Mansfield.

Mansfield's Main street has quite a different look today than it had on that July day in 1898 when what was then known as the Richland Savings Bank opened for business in a room on the east side of that street (No. 40, now occupied by Gray's drug store), and the roster of incorporators and first directors contains the names of many men who were prominently identified with the civic activities of that period.

That was the location in which the bank continued until 1929, when its name was changed to the Richland Trust Company and it was moved into the modern bank and office building at the corner of Park avenue west and Main street.

It is there that the bank's fiftieth birthday anniversary will be observed tomorrow, with "open house" extending from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m., and a cordial invitation extended to everyone to drop in and meet the bank folks.

Noteworthy in the matter of long service is that of Charles H. Hughes, who has been president of this bank since 1934. He became an employe within two months after its opening, and will thus complete 50 years of service in September. Another long-time employe is C. F. Fighter, secretary-treasurer, who started to work in the Bank of Mansfield in 1908 and continued with the Richland bank following consolidation of the two institutions in 1927.

It was as a 13-year-old Mansfield daily newspaper that The News extended welcome to "the new bank" in 1898. The News-Journal now congratulates those who have successfully carried through the first half century, and hopes—for those who will then speak for this newspaper—that when the bank's centennial anniversary comes along in July 1998, the retrospective look will continue to reflect the fine ideals of service by which this institution has gained community respect and confidence.

Many Tourist Attractions In Ohio

IT TAKES some such booklet as has just been issued by the Standard Oil company to impress Ohioans with the many attractive spots in this state which provide opportunities for short or long tours, picnics, outdoor recreation and the like.

Out-of-state tourists marvel at the number of those small roadside parks seen along practically all traveled highways, and many Ohio residents may not realize that there are more than 300 of these in the state, with around fifty state parks and forest preserves.

The booklet to which reference is made contains maps of various sections of the state, showing the location of roadside picnic grounds and state parks, with symbols indicating the facilities available at each.

While Ohio has not been as highly publicized for its scenic, recreational and "vacationland" attractions as some other states, it is right that Ohioans should know about the many pleasant short trips that can be made within the confines of their own state—and that people living elsewhere in the country should be told about various attractions of the Buckeye state.

Profiting By Food Speculation

A CONGRESSIONAL committee reports that 823 federal employes dabbling in the commodity markets in 1946 and 1947 made net profits estimated at from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000, or roughly five to ten per cent of the value of the goods their dealings affected. The operations were on a petty scale, and the committee decided no impropriety was involved.

The possibly $20,000,000 of profit accruing from the operations is a small amount in relation to the total market transactions over a period of two years, but it was added to the people's food bill for that period. What contribution to the food supply was made in return for their profit by those 823 persons?

The special House investigating committee was looking for improper use of confidential information by government employes, and was not considering the more complex question of the usefulness of speculation. That is a question which is worthy of deep and searching study.

Claude Callan presents the thought: "Nothing will more surely bring about less crime than more perspiration. When perspiration flows freely it washes out the inclination to evil."

What Maneuvers Mean

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — There is a certain poetic justice in the frantic confusion of the variously assorted forces whose campaign to dump Harry Truman now has been blown to bits, as forecast here recently, by the emphatic "No" that General Dwight D. Eisenhower finally was forced to reiterate to pleas that he become a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

It is, once again, the old drama of the hypocrisy of self-serving politicians, very familiar to anyone who has observed politics for a long time. But it perhaps has never been played out so beautifully to expose all the forms of political chicanery and double-dealing.

A strange cast of characters it was, indeed, working at their plot to bounce the President. The southern wing of the Democratic party wanted to get rid of him because he dared to ask for simple justice for our Negro citizens—but this issue, so easily exploited by appeals to prejudice, also was seized upon by big economic and financial interests which want Harry Truman out of the way because of his espousal of economic and social welfare measures of his predecessor.

Bosses of big city machines wanted to get rid of him because they are convinced he cannot win. That means they might lose control in their own bailiwicks and thus have to give up the perquisites that go to a big city political machine—the benefits that accrue from the power to dole out city contracts and do other favors for business enterprises.

Ex-New Dealers, now out of positions of influence in government, wanted to get rid of Harry Truman because they considered he had compromised New Deal objectives, even though he favored them, by his ineptness and his appointments of conservatives to key places. So they joined the plot. Their's comes closest to being an honest reason, even though their methods are inept, too, and they do have some very strange companions.

* * *

Same Old Motives.

A MIRACLE was needed to fuse these conflicting elements. Such a miracle seemed at hand in the popular war hero, General "Ike," whose views on leading issues were conveniently vague so that all might find refuge under his shining reputation, that is, if nobody asked any embarrassing questions. And nobody did.

But the general refused to play their little game.

This drama of political hypocrisy is intriguing because it is a sequel to another of four years ago with the same motives, but with another character in the role of Harry Truman today.

Then it was the big city bosses, with the sympathetic support of the southerners, who induced President Roosevelt to drop Henry Wallace as vice-presidential candidate and substitute Harry Truman.

Four years ago some of the New Deal contingent now seeking to ditch President Truman was working for the nomination of Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court for vice-presidential candidate. He is their real candidate now for the presidential nomination. But the justice does not suit the southerners. So this secondary plot blows up, also.

This light summer political opera that we have been witnessing for the last few weeks is, in reality, a stark tragedy for the Democratic party when you back off and ponder its meaning.

Here, on the eve of the convention, you have had the spectacle of prominent party leaders in key states parroting each other that President Truman can't win, that the party should select another candidate.

President Truman, nonetheless, will be the nominee. These same party leaders are supposed to conduct the campaign in their areas. That hardly makes for the winning sirit. It all but gives the election to the Republicans by default.

Washington Calling

When Democrats Divide

By MARQUIS CHILDS

ALREADY the obituaries are being written for the Democratic party. The funeral clothes are being brought out and carload lots of sackcloth and ashes are on order for Philadelphia.

Historical parallels are cited to show why the party is through. The quarrel over civil rights is compared with the battle over slavery which tore the party in two in 1860.

There seem to be good and sufficient reasons for calling in the undertaker.

It is hard to see how the utterly dissimilar elements that are yoked together can ever again be reconciled behind a ticket that has a chance of victory.

The dissident Democrats who promoted the Eisenhower draft certainly have not helped their party in this crisis. They could scarcely have believed that General Eisenhower would yield to the draft strategy. His record was too clear and positive for that even before his latest refusal to accept any nomination for public office.

There was something almost pathetically childish in the way in which both in the southern wing and in the liberal-labor wing some leaders clung to the hope that the war hero would resolve their dilemma. They were asking for a miracle, and miracles in politics are all but non-existent.

The southerners, in particular, cherished the delusion that Eisenhower could be forced to run. They were inclined to be indignant at hints from northern liberals that he would serve in any event as a useful stalking horse.

Apparently James Roosevelt, Jacob Arvey, the Chicago political boss, and others of the stop-Truman faction thought it would be possible to use Ike to sidetrack the President. Then they would come in with Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. But the southerners will not accept Douglas, whom they put down as a New Dealer of deepest dye.

So the outlook is dismal. A quarrel over the civil-rights plank is in prospect. Any effort now to cast Mr. Truman aside seems bound to end in failure, and the effort will only further darken the outlook for November. Q. E. D.: A party sunk under overwhelming defeat and with no hope of ultimate unification.

* * *

No Leader In Sight.

BUT it is much too early, in my opinion to call in the crepe hangers. The very fact of the present factionalism is proof of a vigorous life within the party. And there are historical parallels to substantiate it.

In 1924 the Democratic party seemed bent on destroying itself. In the Madison Square Garden convention the southern bourbon wing and the urban wing based on the powerful city machines fought it out in public for 106 noisy ballots. The candidate finally chosen, John W. Davis, was a respectable compromise, but he was little known to the country and the LaFollette third party tagged him with the Wall Street label.

In the 1928 convention the city wing won out, and Al Smith was the nominee. He went down under the worst defeat suffered up to that time, carrying only eight states for a total of 87 electoral votes. For the first time, the Solid South was split, with Texas, Virginia, Florida and North Carolina going for Herbert Hoover.

Then, too, the obituaries were trotted out, but four years later with Franklin D. Roosevelt as the candidate, the dead party staged a remarkable comeback. It has remained in power for 16 years.

The obvious lack today is a powerful leader, but no sign of such a leader is on the horizon.

It is quite possible, however, that events of the next four years may call such leadership into being. No one could have predicted in 1928 that Roosevelt would lead a disorganized and leaderless party to victory four years later.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Eisenhower Advocated Profitless War

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson today writes the first of two columns dissecting Dwight D. Eisenhower, the man who didn't want to be president.)

By DREW PEARSON

* * *

WASHINGTON — Most spotlighted man in America today is Dwight D. Eisenhower. This column and the one that follows is an attempt to answer a deluge of questions received in this office asking what Eisenhower is really like, whether he's a brass hat at heart, and what might be his qualities as a civilian leader.

I first knew Eisenhower when he was an inconspicuous major holding down a desk in the outer office of Assistant Secretary of War Frederick H. Payne. That was in the Hoover administration, and Ike was working in cooperation with Bernard Baruch on taking the profit out of war.

I suspect that was where Eisenhower got his idea of business taking the lead in giving up all profits for a year in order to stop inflation—the idea which so astounded GOP bigwigs at the Curtis club dinner last winter that they dropped Ike like a hot potato.

Eisenhower got to know MacArthur at that time, and ghost-wrote MacArthur's farewell message as chief of staff—one of the most masterly statements ever issued by an American soldier of the Army.

* * *

MacArthur Fired Ike.

LATER MacArthur took Ike to Manila, along with several other bright boys, to help organize the Philippine army. There they rowed, and Ike was sent home—probably the luckiest break he ever had. For he got back to the U. S. A. just as the clouds of World War II were rolling up and just in time to come to the attention of Franklin D. Roosevelt. If he had stayed in the Philippines he would have been just another commander under MacArthur, probably taken prisoner on Bataan.

Back in Washington, Eisenhower, then only a lieutenant colonel, jumped into the feverish job of building up an army which in all too short a time might have to cope with Hitler.

During the Louisiana maneuvers two months before Pearl Harbor, Bob Allen made this prophetic diagnosis of the man who later was to command the greatest military adventure in history:

"Chief among these younger aces (referring to General Kreuger's aides) is Col. Dwight Eisenhower, chief of staff, who conceived and directed the strategy that routed the Second army. Eisenhower has a steel-trap mind, plus unusual physical vigor. To him the military profession is a science and he began watching and studying the German army five years ago."

* * *

Ike's Boyhood.

HOWEVER, for real insight into any man's character, you must examine his boyhood. For such examination I am indebted to J. W. Howe of Emporia, Kans., then publisher of the Abilene, Kans., News, a member of the school board, and probably a closer friend of young Eisenhower's than almost anyone outside his own family.

The Abilene News was headquarters for a group of high school boys who came there to read the papers, make some pocket money helping Howe and to discuss sports, politics and their problems.

"Young Dwight," says Howe, "liked to read the exchange papers from out of town. He never complained about working, seeming to take that for granted. In school discussions, he was always for the underdog and contended we needed a somewhat better distribution of wealth."

At that time William Jennings Bryan had made several speeches in Abilene, was popular with young people, and had made some inroads among the Republicans. Young Eisenhower was a Bryan admirer. That perhaps, plus the fact that his family were Democrats, explains why Ike's first venture into politics occurred at the annual Democratic banquet in Abilene in November, 1909. The chief speaker was George H. Hodges, later governor of Kansas, but young Dwight, then 19 and waiting to get into West Point, was picked to speak with him.

* * *

His First Speech.

TWO themes ran through the speech of the 19-year-old future commander of the Allied armies in Europe — preparedness and helping the underdog. He also made an appeal to Republicans to come over to the Democrats.

"There is an old proverb," the young orator told his audience of Democrats, "that says 'as the twig is inclined, so the tree is bent.' A man after voting the straight ticket for several elections seldom changes from one side to the other . . .

"There is an inborn desire in all normal and healthy boys to help the smaller contestants in an even fight." Eisenhower continued. "A young man, in speaking of the political situation the other day, said: 'My father is a Republican and so was his father, but I am going to vote for the Democrats at the next election because I think they need me and the Republicans do not'."

"A leader of a political party who is a clean and fearless fighter," concluded young Eisenhower, "and possesses a winning manner is undoubtedly the means of attracting a large number of votes. The young man sees that the more honest and fearless leaders have become disgusted with the actions of the leaders and the party proper. He admires these men greatly but he cannot help but think and remark that they are fighting for many of the principles which the Democratic party advocated."

A few months after the Abilene speech Ike was in West Point where no one is supposed to be either a Democrat or a Republican.

Assignment: America

As the Game Is Played

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — It is surprising how often big-time political campaigns seem to resemble major sports events—and the so-called "Draft Ike" furore of the current presidential fight certainly proves the point.

Actually, from the spectator's point of view, the sports-politics parallel is extremely apt. In both instances, the spectator must have some considerable understanding of the importance of the less noticeable moves in order to fully appreciate the contest.

For example, at football games many fans content themselves with watching the man who is carrying the ball (when they can see him, which is also a spectator hazard in politics!).

This, of course, is one of the better methods of being prepared to cheer at the proper instant when the goal line is crossed. However, in most games, it gives the spectator little clue as to why the goal line was crossed at that particular time.

The real answer may be found in the unnoticed but brilliant blocking of some unsung halfback, or in the offensive power of some brawny lineman who has opened up a hole big enough to drive a beer truck through. It may lie in the success of some once-a-season clever fake or in the meticulous timing of a mousetrap play.

In any case, those are the points watched by the experts, just as in basketball they watch the ball-handler more closely than the scoring hotshot and in boxing they watch the body-worker and counter-puncher more closely than the spectacular face-hitter.

So it goes through sports.

In politics, it is equally easy to get fooled into following the day-to-day developments of the more spectacular events without watching too closely what makes them possible.

For instance, few people seem to realize that behind the seemingly ubiquitous Eisenhower-for-Democratic-nominee boom lie some of the best efforts of several ranking Republican leaders.

It is useless to name them for they would raise officially horrified eyes to the skies at the very thought, and call on the stars to be their witness that 'tain't so. But 'tis.

It is not that they wish to see Eisenhower actually running on the democratic ticket, understand. Nothing would frighten them more at this reading. But they are not worried about that possibility.

* * *

All Part of the Game.

MANY, many moons ago, as the bedtime stories go, a group of stalwart GOP supporters invited the general out for the evening. In the course of conversation, they practically handed him the presidency on a platter—or so it sounded—if he would become a Republican and accept the nomination.

Before the evening was over Ike, who can be quite convincing when he chooses, had left no doubts in their minds that he would not accept the nomination this year—either from them or the Democrats.

That's all they wanted to know, for these men do not believe in fairy tales such as "popular drafts" and the like. They figure there's never been a really unwilling president yet.

Being personally reassured that the general would not run, they proceeded to drop hints in the proper quarters to the effect that the reason they couldn't get him was that he really was a Democrat at heart.

That's all that was necessary to really upset things within a Democratic party already torn with anti-Truman strife. Those who disliked the president promptly jumped on the Eisenhower bandwagon. Whenever the movement showed signs of dying down, the Republicans promptly emoted fear-of-Eisenhower all over the place—and the rally got going again.

Farmer's Diary

What Boys Must Learn

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE thirteen-year-old boy was creeping along the ground, cat fashion, when I happened to see him. His tanned, bare body was clad in one garment — patched overalls. His bare toes dug into the grass as he inched along on his stomach and peeked around the roots of the lilac bush, intent upon something in the pond below the bank.

I saw him aim his slingshot carefully, pulling back the taut red piece of inner tubing to its greatest power. A white bellied frog upon a mossy stone interrupted his croak, as the missile let fly, and toppled off into the water drunkenly. "I hit him, I hit him," chuckled the boy. His face glowed with satisfaction.

"Young savage," I muttered, and turned away from the window pretending not to have seen.

People who study such things declare that every boy or girl goes through, in the process of growing to adulthood, the various stages in the development of the race.

They claim, too, that only by satisfactory developing through these stages does any person become really full grown.

Cruelty and destructiveness seem to be a part of boyhood to be endured . . . to be counted a passing phase for which boyhood cannot be wholly condemned. Is there anybody who at one time or another has not been guilty of a vagrant act?

It's a ticklish subject to write about. Nobody defends vandals or condones destruction of property. Yet every boy has a right to conquer whatever natural problems arise, and to test his own strength and cunning every day, not just in camp during two weeks of summer.

My sympathy always goes out to the poor little boy on a city lawn, fenced in by a high play pen, then by a yard fence, then by all the artificialities of our brick and stone society. Boys need hills to climb, streams and rivers to swim, freedom from restraint, a chance to be themselves, with nobody to blame them.

Instinctively — from within — they develop and are able for bigger things. What's a bruised heel or a broken toe to a healthy boy? Let him make his own weapon—slingshot, squirt gun, bow and arrow—and may the Lord bless him! Let him climb trees and swim rivers and take bike rides and canoe trips! Let him grow up naturally and use his knowledge of nature. Let him know birth and death—fire fighting and loss by drowning. Do not shield him too much, he must learn how to live by living.

VIRGINIA MOORHEAD WED TO CHARLES M. FAIRCHILD

Pretty Home Ceremony Solemnized Thursday Afternoon Followed By Reception at Westbrook.

A BEAUTIFULLY decorated altar before the fireplace in the R. E. Moorhead home, 29 Western avenue, was the background for the wedding of Miss Virginia Louise Moorhead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Moorhead, and Charles Mastin Fairchild of Nashville, Tenn., Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

An arched effect was used as a background with a massed cluster of huckelberry, picardy glads and palms. Two beauty baskets of glads and delphinium were placed with lighted candelabra on either side of the mantel. A long white runner was placed on the stairway, which the bride descended to the altar.

Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiated for the pretty home ceremony solemnized before 25 members of the immediate family.

Mrs. W. W. Webb, grandmother of the bride, presided at the piano for the program of nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Moorhead wore a white imported French organdy gown of floor length which was made with basque waist, slightly off-the-shoulder style, and trimmed with white embroidered insertion, on bodice and full skirt. The gown was worn over a hooped skirt and her sheer white imported veil was held in place with a tiny bonnet shaped headpiece, worn off-the-face.

She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, gardenias and stephanotis, centered with a white Folcanna orchid, which was later used as her going-away corsage.

Mrs. Robert Moorhead, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, attired in a French blue imported organdy of floor length, worn over a hoop skirt. Her dress was trimmed with eyelet off-the-shoulder bertha style collar, and tiers of eyelet bands. On her head she wore light blue carnations to match her bouquet.

Little Linda Jean Moorhead, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a white organdy dress with pink satin sash and carried a bouquet of roses and blue delphinium. The flowers in her hair matched her bouquet.

Mrs. Moorhead, mother of the bride, wore a grey sheer crepe gown of floor length, made draped style, and pink slippers. Her corsage was a hybrid orchid.

Serving as best man for Mr. Fairchild was Robert Moorhead, brother of the bride.

Following the service a reception was held at Westbrook Country club for 250 guests. Music for dancing was furnished by Nels Blocker's orchestra and the vocalist was Are Denny of Tiffin, friend of the Moorheads.

The drawing room at the club was a profusion of palms and ferns and the fireplace was decorated the same as at the Moorhead home. Two beauty baskets of glads were placed on either side of the mantel. The serving table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with ferns and stephanotis. On either side were arrangements of maiden hair fern and white pompons. Decorating the punch bowl were California cherries, ferns and yellow pompons.

When the couple left for their trip through the south, the bride wore an aqua tropical suit with sable brown accessories. Upon their return they will reside at 1922 19th street, south, Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Fairchild was graduated from Bradford Junior College, Bradford, Mass., and is a charter member of Delta Sigma Zeta sorority. Mr. Fairchild, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Fairchild, Warrensburg, Mo., was graduated from Central Missouri State College. He is employed as sales manager for the Hospital Supply Company of Nashville.

Guests for the wedding were from Meadville, Pa., Cleveland, Findlay and Charleston, W. Va. Those attending the reception were from Lancaster, Columbus, Marion, Tiffin and Clearwater Beach, Fla.

Ruth Knight Becomes Bride of Bedford Knox Metzger Here

THE Grace Episcopal church was the scene of the wedding for Miss Ruth Eleanor Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gerald Knight, Route 1, Mansfield, and Bedford Knox Metzger, son of Mrs. Mary Metzger, 818 Park avenue west, July 3 at 7 o'clock.

Rev. Samuel J. Peard performed the ceremony and Mrs. Dean Eckert played the organ. Palms, lighted candelabra and bouquets of snapdragons formed a pretty background for the ceremony.

Mr. Knight gave his daughter in marriage when she approached the altar wearing a street length frock of aqua with white accessories. She crried a prayer book topped with red roses. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls belonging to her grandmother.

Mrs. Charles Schmidt was matron of honor, attired in a street length dress of magnolia with light blue accessories. Her flowers were white roses.

Mrs. Knight chose a navy print dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Metzger also wore navy with white and gardenias.

Mr. Schmidt was best man for the service. Ushers were Joseph G. Knight jr., brother of the bride and Charles Boor, a close friend of the couple.

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party received 100 guests in the undercroft of the church. The four-tiered wedding cake centered the large oval table which was also decorated with candles and white lilies.

The newlyweds will leave July 17 for a trip to New York and Northern Michigan.

Upon their return they will reside at 818 Park avenue west.

Mr. Metzger was graduated from Union Rural school and both are employed at the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Avoid Worry And Fatigue

Worry and fatigue can be prevented by observing a few simple rules.

By eliminating these two destructive factors from your daily life, you will keep your energy and spirits high.

Certain ways of preventing worry and fatigue are given by Dale Carnegie which he states:

"Rest before you get tired.

"Learn to relax at your work.

"Apply these five good working habits. (1) Clear your desk of all papers except those relating to the immediate problem. (2) Do things in the order of their importance. (3) Do the distasteful things first. (4) When you face a problem, solve it then and there, provided you have necessary facts. (5) Learn to organize, deputize and supervise.

"To prevent worry and fatigue, put enthusiasm into your work.

"Remember, no one was ever killed by lack of sleep. It is worry about insomnia that does the damage—not insomnia."

Keep Hair Short Now

Keep it short and sweet, say hair stylists. And American girls from coast to coast are taking up the cry and the scissors to keep their hair just that way.

Have your stylist cut your hair for shape and contour once, and keep it looking light and fluffy by trimming it yourself when a new crop begins to appear. There's an easy way to do this, too. With a little patience and ambition, you can save countless lunch hours—and your budget.

To begin, dig up a cutting shears. Section off your hair into forelock, and side and back locks. Then begin to trim one section at a time until your hair is short and fluffy, the perfect length for face flattery. The trimming done, shampoo your hair, and just before it is completely dry, take a brush to it for gleam and curl.

If your hair is of the straighter variety, pincurl it to give it a more buoyant and springy look. Limp locks will not linger on the bright heads of business girls this summer.

Agnes Paulsen Club Hears Mrs. Dippman

The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. Robert Coe. Literature on the mechanics, containers and lines of flower arranging was passed among the group.

Mrs. Russell Dalenberg, chairman of the ways and means committee, conducted an auction of flowers and plants which each member brought from her garden.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be July 21 at the home of Mrs. Robert Le Febre, 944 Marion avenue.

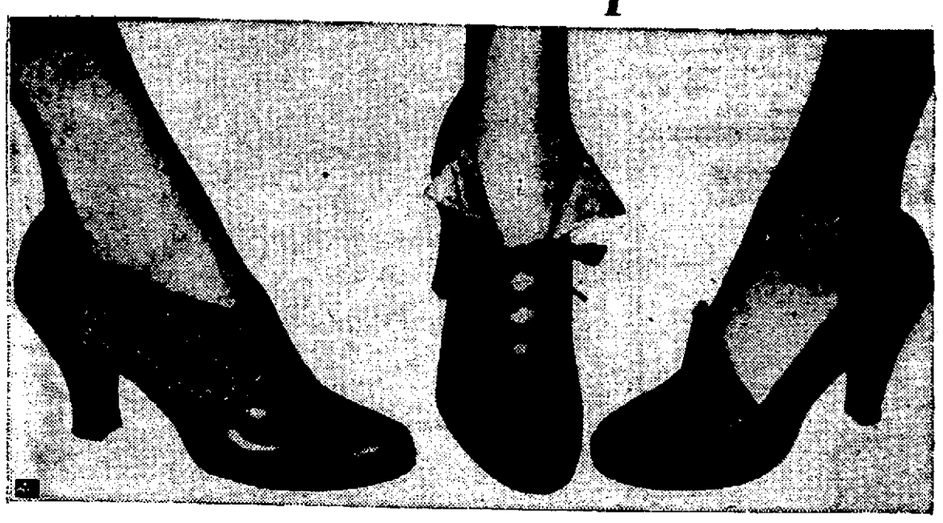
Fall Footsteps



FALL TRIO . . . Three of the newest fall shoe styles (l. to r.): Tweed and calf spat shoe by Palter de Liso; black suede laced bootee with gold kid wings and open back, by Customcraft; high peak front pump in brown lizard and suede, by Mackey-Starr.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

You may take your choice next fall between spat shoes, booties and buttoned footgear that requires an old-fashioned buttonhook.

There's news in the fall shoe lineup, with new silhouettes, new colors, new leather combinations, new heel shapes. The shoe designers have decided it's high time they shared headlines with the dressmakers and the milliners. And this fall headlines will go to the feet.

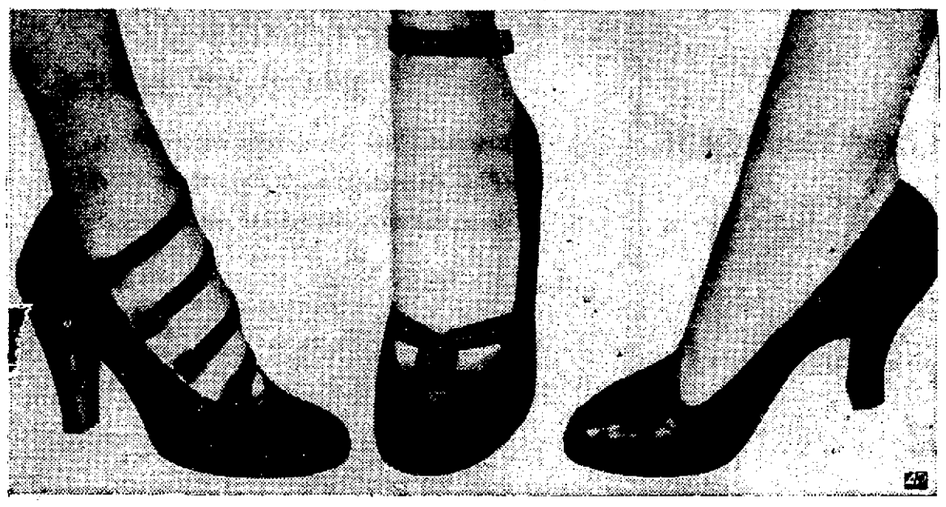
Biggest news in the fall shoe story is the higher shoe, whether buttoned, buckled or laced. Closed toes and heels are the thing, and heels themselves take on new shapes, mostly the curved French type, in either medium or high styles.

There is a soft dressmaker look to most of the newest shoes, even those designed for wear with suits. Draped vamps, fabric and leather combinations, delicate strap and filigree treatments all contribute to a ladylike effect.

With all the new styles rampant, the pump remains the favorite shoe style for fall—but it has a different last, a more pointed toe, a curved heel. Straps also are important in the fall picture, from the one-strap pump to the bootee height with five or six straps from instep to ankle.

Ties and oxfords also are back, in both tailored and dressy styles.

And prices—they're still up, in most cases a little higher than last season.



BEST FOOT FORWARD . . . Fashion goes to the feet for fall: Four-strap black suede pump by Newton Elkin; dressy after-five one-strap shoe in black suede with cut steel heads, by I. Miller; pleated toe pump in wine calf and navy suede, by Morris Wolock.

Horoscope

for Saturday, July 10
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

It is probable that a new idea, a fresh twist of applying tested ways and means for important problems, a sudden innovation deviating from established procedures or customs, may greatly accelerate affairs, and assist in placing lagging or static situations on a sound and practical basis for future development. Change of environs, associates or supporters, might result in long-range benefits, with increased capital or influence from those in high places. Personal or social prestige may enhance values as well as assist serious effort where practical values have worth. Investments should expand.

Those whose birthday it is, have definite promise for success of their efforts to promote future security and establish a firm basic foundation for increased progress and solid possessions. This is due largely to personal ability, practical plans and objectives, sustained by sterling worth, recognized by influential persons disposed to generous rewards and tokens of preferment. Social position and personality have force in winning substantial expression from desired sources. Ingenuity and change also prosper.

LOSES 60 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING, THANKS TO RENNEL
New Madison Lady Praises Reducer

"I am very happy to recommend Rennel" writes Mrs. S. Helmuth. "When I started taking Rennel I was very overweight and was bothered with that overstuffed feeling. Now that I have lost 60 pounds I feel better in every way. I would have lost weight faster if I had watched my diet but I ate anything I wanted all of the time. That is what I like about Rennel, it isn't necessary to diet as it is with other reducing preparations. I also like the way it took care of that over-stuffed feeling."

Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple, go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle, take just two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles; just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel, no starvation diet, no printed diet list to buy, no expensive vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry for you WON'T be hungry.

Transformation of a Wheat Field

Shelby Air Field Built By Accident

By JOHN PATRICK

SHELBY — Shelby has an airport by accident.

Today this accidental airfield, one mile east of Shelby, has one hangar completed, another in the making and ample runways to insure recognition among Ohio's far-flung independent airports.

The transformation that altered a wheat field into a budding airfield boils down to two flying brothers in their early twenties, Montford R. and William Fischer, of Bowling Green, Ohio. This then, is a saga of a couple of aviation "bugs." It is being duplicated all over America today, wherever exAir Corps buddies get together and plan.

Like thousands of other discharged Air Force pilots who yearned to own a private airfield, the Fischer brothers were smitten early with the idea of erecting an airport. But unlike many others, the Fischer boys not only dreamed, but planned.

First, they purchased a 50-acre tract of land in Fostoria and contentedly crowed, "We're in business." This wasn't the case, however, since a dispute over the land arose and the deal fell through.

SEARCH CONTINUES

On the recommendation of the Ohio Aviation board, the youths searched for a location in Salem to no avail. In Ashland they couldn't even find hotel rooms and abandoned the idea in hopes of finding a place in Mansfield. The hotel room shortage in Mansfield chased the youths to a tourist home in Shelby.

Miffed and a trifle heartsick, the brothers Fischer were startled to find a welcome to their airport plans from Shelby townspeople. Soon the Junior Chamber of Commerce offered backing and later every organization got on the bandwagon.

Called the Wright Brothers of Shelby, the deeply-tanned youths methodically went about their work. On April 6 of this year ground was broken and the brothers felt at long last they had found a haven. (Incidentally, they named the airfield Sky Haven.)

RUNWAYS CLEARED

The field was mowed and cleared for runways. Markers were placed in key parts around the field.

Hampered at first by water leaks and plumbing breaks, the airport started taking shape with the completion of the first hangar.

Last week the State Department of Education authorized private flight instructions and the Ohio Board of Aviation approved the field for charter flights and passenger service.

The owners are still awaiting, however, authorization from the Veterans Administration in Cleveland entitling the field to handle students under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

PLAN ANOTHER RUNWAY

Future plans call for the construction of a 2,150 foot sod runway in a north-east-southwest direction to form a V with the present north-south runway.

Berthed at the field are two Piper Cubs and a Navy Vultee Valiant. A four-place Piper Cub plane is expected as soon as delivery can be made from Hudson, Ohio.

Monty is a licensed aircraft and engine mechanic and graduate of the Hartung School of Aeronautics in Detroit. He also spent three years at the University of Michigan.

His brother, Bill, is a licensed pilot and will graduate from Ohio State University after the fall term.

Union Bosses Seek Loopholes To Avoid Honest Reform Program

NEW YORK—The great denunciation of the union rackets in the American Federation of Labor escaped the notice of perhaps as many as half of the voters of today. Roosevelt was President for more than 12 years and these unioneers were, in the most practical, political and financial sense, his cohorts.

By 1940, which was eight years ago, the expose was at its height. At that time the younger set were vanishing into the fighting services.

They had been too young and frivolous up to then to pay heed to the story of the political alliance between the lowest criminals of the metropolitan underworlds and the President of the nation.

Thereafter they were in the spell of Army and Navy doctrinaires who gave them the works in regular classroom lectures glorifying Roosevelt's program as a free labor movement, and damning as enemies of a hallucination called "democracy" all who dared denounce the menace.

The young voters of today who are, say, 22 years old and the ripening class of citizens of 17 and 18, soon to be voters, were children then.

If the few successful prosecutions of individual rogues in the AFL's component rackets had had any good effect on unionism, and if the Taft-Hartley law had really wrought a reform in union conduct, the whole subject might be filed away as history.

But the apparent reforms are not real. They are only legalistic adjustments recommended by union lawyers.

The lawyers are specialists wallowing in their own share of the graft. There is no clientele in the world with resources comparable to those of a big American union of working stiffs held in thrall by their ignorance, stupid fear of "the bosses" and the power of persecution which Roosevelt placed in the hands of the high union racketeers.

Normal clients must try to avoid litigation. Union lawyers constantly instigate it. Political power has been their ally in the jury box and on the bench. But if they lose, the union just takes an assessment.

I have duly noted and appropriately disposed of occasional mashnotes abusing me for a lack of respect for the wisdom and virtue of "the people."

"The people" are flattered outrageously by poet and politician, but the measure of their character may be taken from the fact that they reward contemptuous fakers with their confidence, their taxes and even, if things go wrong, with the lives of their children. They do this knowing as truly as they know themselves that no decent person would so degrade himself to win their favor.

One of the few respectful observations that may be made of Roosevelt was that he had a competent contempt for the people and expressed it in a burlesque of affection so crude that it surely must have been detected if the people had had the merest inkling of the fine intelligence which he constantly imputed to them.

Trio Robs Boy Peddlers Of Earnings

Two Small Boys Report $8.50 Loss

Police today sought three youths, believed to be 18-year-olds, who strong-armed two young ice cream peddlers last night on South Adams street, stealing $8.50 of one boy's night earnings.

Officers learned of the bully-like trick last night when N. H. Wood, 707 Park avenue east, brought his boy peddlers to the station.

The boys, Darrel Grubaugh, 12, of 21 South Willis avenue, and Harold Hooper, 10, of 53 Bentley street, said the older youths held their hands while they took the money from the Grubaugh boy's wallet.

Darrel told police one of the boys then pushed him to the ground, warning that if he told anyone of the incident, he'd "get him!"

Grubaugh said the youths failed to get all the money in the wallet since some was hidden in a secret compartment.

Wood, who owns a sporting goods store at 707 Park avenue east, sells ice cream as a sideline. He said he would file charges against the youths if they are apprehended.

SAFETY CHECK—Patrolman Earl Korn stops a motorist on Park avenue west and checks the car for mechanical defects. The city is cooperating in the annual state-wide traffic safety check.

She is the Gensels' first child. Both she and her mother are doing fine, Rev. Gensel said.

BLOSSOMS AT LIBRARY—

The large flowering plant which is adding color to the Mansfield Public library is from the Black greenhouses on Marion avenue road. The plant, a clivia, member of the amaryllis family, was loaned to the library by Mrs. Donald S. Black. Mrs. Black, a member of the Johnny Appleseed Garden club, frequently sends flowers and plants to the library. This one has brilliant red and yellow bell-shaped blooms and flat evergreen leaves.

Check 222 In City Inspection

Drivers Warned To Make Repairs

About one-fifth of all cars stopped by the state patrol and city police as part of the annual state-wide traffic safe-check have been found defective.

Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals said Mansfield police stopped 222 cars on Park avenue West, near Marion avenue, yesterday and 41, or 18 per cent, were found defective.

"The principal defect was faulty stop lights, and tail lights," he said. Only one car was found with defective brakes."

Boals said persons with unsafe cars are given three days to have the defect corrected and are served with a warrant if they fail to comply.

The state patrol did not have complete figures on its check, but reported that 25 per cent of all cars stopped were defective.

Persons whose cars are found "safe" are given windshield stickers so they will not be stopped a second time. Items checked by the policemen include headlights, horns, rear vision mirrors, tires, windshield wipers, steering gears, taillights, stop lights and brakes.

'Call Girls' Plan Appeal

NEW YORK —(INS)— Attorneys for the pretty dark haired daughter of a U. S. career diplomat, who was found guilty in woman's court of loitering for the purpose of prostitution, planned today to appeal the verdict.

Nancy Fletcher Choremi, accused by police of being a $100-a-night "call girl," was convicted along with her co-defendants, Madeleine Blavier, 32, and Margaret Starr, 30. All three face a maximum penalty of three years imprisonment.

Date for sentence will be set today.

The trio were brought to trial after police obtained wire-tapped conversations which alleged they arranged "love dates" for a cash consideration.

Mrs. Choremi, daughter of Dr. C. Paul Fletcher, U. S. consul-general at Casablanca, and wife of a Greek cotton broker, termed the charges as "fantastic," as did the other two defendants.

Open House Marks Bank's Anniversary

The Richland Trust company will play host tomorrow at open house in observance of the bank's golden anniversary. Visitors will be received from 9:30 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Tonight, bank officials, their wives and guests, many of whom will be bankers from various parts of Ohio, will join in a dinner meeting at the Westbrook Country club. Dr. Tennyson Guyer, of Findlay, popular Ohio speaker and pastor, will talk to the group. A huge birthday cake will be cut by C. H. Hughes, president of the bank, following dinner.

In preparing for tomorrow's event, the bank has been decorated with golden leaves, plants and two huge gold motifs on each side of the big bank clock. Tomorrow, when the bank opens its doors to visitors, the different departments will be open for inspection and the bank's latest and most efficient equipment will be on display.

Children will receive comic books indicative of banking, and anniversary booklets will be presented to each adult visitor.

During its half century of service here, the Richland Trust company has played a major part in the city's development. During World War II, it assisted the OPA by supplying ration banking service. It assisted veterans in applying for the Ohio bonus by setting up a desk in its lobby where veterans could obtain forms and where they could be notarized.

Through its 50 years in business, the bank has enjoyed unusual continuity of management. President Hughes completes 50 years with the bank next September. C. Floyd Fighter, secretary and treasurer, has been affiliated with the bank for the past 40 years.

Although he joined the bank staff last winter, Charles N. Sutton, executive vice president, has been in the banking business for a number of years.
